Mrs. Hollingshead, 56 years of age, was born in Irvine, Alberta, on February 8, 1905. She had been a resident of Hillcrest for the past 38 years, where her husband operated a barber shop and insurance business. Part Bond of the Coleman Elks then made presentation of cheques to Bruce Bagley and Fay Radley for being the boy and girl having attained the highest mark in grade nine.

Steve Mraz made the next presentation on behalf of the Coleman School Board to Jim Montalbeti, who attained an average of 90.3 per cent; second, Walter Franz, whose average was 79.2, and to Ken Liddell whose average was 75.96 per cent. Of the 19 graduating, 13 are entering university, two have gone into engineering, the remainder are studying Education, two are entering the University of Montana, two are going into nursing, two are going into business college and one is at Royal Roads College.

He added that of the 149 grade 12 papers written 129 papers had matriculation standing which indicates that 85.9 per cent received their matriculation and 145 out of 149—96.7 per cent, received a diploma pass.

In concluding the affair Principal Allen expressed his thanks to the sponsors of the awards, to the students' parents, and to the teachers of both public and high school stating that the grades from one to nine lay the foundation for the students, the home life provides the proper motivation and the high school puts the roof on the students.

World's Biggest Piggy Bank

"Ten Ton Toots", the Coleman Lions Club "Biggest Piggy Bank in the World" is creating quite an attraction along the number three highway near the town park.

The big bank has been set up by the Lions Club who are endeavoring to raise funds enough through donations to the Piggy Bank and other projects to build a Scout hall for the Coleman Scout and Cub troops.

The Lions propose to build a two storey affair near the location where the bank has been set up. The bottom floor of the building would provide a meeting and Scout hall for the Scouts and Cubs while the top section with its entrance near the highway would be a museum section. Plans so far for the museum include a display of all types of coal mining equipment and many other items from the Pass that would provide for an excellent tourist attraction.

Delving into the history of "Ten Ton Toots" as the locomotive was named by miners, it was learned that the engine was built in 1909. The "dinky" as it is termed in miners' language, came to life as a seven by seven by 14 compound air locomotive. Filled with compressed air at 1,000 pounds pressure the cylinders operated at 250 and 260 pounds to drive the pistons.

Toots has hauled upwards of 5,000,000 tons of coal underground in the mines of Coleman Collieries. The unit was presented to the Lions Club by Coleman Collieries Limited to aid the club in collecting funds for the construction of the hall for the Boy Scouts.

The locomotive has been set up on a short section of mine rails near the park site and the engine has been painted a silver color. A large slot has been cut into the side of the air cylinder where donations large and small can be dropped.

The Lions feel that if the bank is half filled there will be ample funds to get the big project underway.

Pensioners To Meet October 2nd

The Coleman Old Age Pensioners Association has announced this week that the Association will hold a meeting in the Elks hall Monday, October 2nd.

The Association has requested that all members and interested persons please attend this meeting as a very poor turnout was on hand at the September meeting to hear the report of the recent convention given by President Mrs. Lena Bouthiller.

The Association has pointed out that full co-operation and attendance of members is imperative in order that they can operate successfully.

A full season of entertainment for the members is being anticipated but unless attendance increases it is felt that the small attendance now showing up for meetings does not warrant keeping the Association going.

OF MANY THINGS

(By Ambrose Hills)

A PRETTY GOOD SYSTEM

There's a small restaurant near the office which I frequently patronize, but today it was boarded up. I think I know why.

About five years ago an immigrant couple took it over and made it quite successful. They were at work before I reached my office in the morning (and I'm an early bird), and usually were still at it when I headed home at night. A friendly pair, they attracted a good many customers and the food was good enough to hold us.

In the summer, when I batch for about two months, I made a habit of eating breakfast there. It was always good, served with a smile, and the couple made it clear they appreciated the business.

Not too long ago they sold the restaurant and opened a larger place in another part of the city, where they specialize in the dishes of their homeland. Their successor was a man who did not appear to have much experience in the business. He raised the prices, served less tasty food. One by one, the regular patrons started to look elsewhere. Finally, the restaurant was closed.

I am sorry the man's venture failed, but I realize that he practically guaranteed his own failure. No arbitrary power closed him down; the process was completely impersonal — the patrons simply stopped coming, either because of the higher prices or, more likely, the less attractive food.

I don't know what the man who failed thinks about all this. Perhaps he curses the economic system; perhaps he blames himself; perhaps he thinks lady luck had a finger in the pie. I hope, however, that he got the message — that he is just not a good restaurant man, and he ought to find another position in which he can serve someone satisfactorily.

In a planned economy, of course, the man would have been moved out of the restaurant by inspectors. They would have decided that he was a failure, and would have bluntly told him so.

There are some people who believe in such planning, done by experts, and consider it the most efficient system. It seems to me, however, that inspectors might blunder.

They might declare a man a failure because they didn't like the way he parted his hair. Our competitive system operates more justly, and with an impersonal efficiency that cannot be denied.

Our system gives men the right to fail or to succeed. To succeed, they must serve the public, not the arbitrary tastes of inspectors or efficiency experts. And after all, the public is the best judge of the service it desires.

Illegal To Keep Animals In Captivity

Louis Barbero of Beaver Mines was fined $20.00 and costs when he appeared before Police Magistrate F. S. Radford of Blairmore on Tuesday evening on a charge under section of the Game Act, with keeping in captivity a bear.

Charges were preferred by the District Ranger Fred Favco and Assistant Ranger Fred Schroeder, who, on September 9th found the black bear cub chained to a log on the Barbero property at Beaver Mines.

Mr. Barbero was instructed not to turn the bear loose, and the game officers contacted John Hogan, superintendent of the Blairmore Forestry office, to receive instructions as to what to do with the bear.

The bear was removed and caged and the Zoo was contacted with regard to their accepting the animal but they had no room for it.

The bear can neither be turned loose as it has no cave for the winter and would probably die. As a result, the animal, now several months old, will have to be destroyed.

Mr. Barbero pleaded guilty to the charge stating that it was his children who brought the bear to the farm home in a half dead condition. After feeding the bear, it was collared and chained to a log, and as Mr. Barbero added it was not hidden from sight and many persons had seen the animal.

While giving evidence, Mr. Hogan quoted section seven from Chapter 34 of the Alberta Game Act which states: "Unless authorized by a licence or permit, issued pursuant to this Act or to the Fur Farms Act or the regulations thereunder, no person shall (a) pick up, handle, possess, or transport any big game, game bird or fur bearing animal, or in any way disturb the young thereof; (b) keep in captivity any big game, game bird or fur bearing animal, or (c) release to the wild within the province (1) any big game, game bird or fur bearing animal, or (2) any exotic animal or bird."

Mr. Hogan stated that during the past few years many small moose calves deer and other animals have been sent to the Calgary zoo and other zoos after the animals have been deserted by their parents due to the fact that the animal had been touched by a human hand. Once the young animal is touched by a human, the scent remains on the young animal and the mother abandons the young who, without parental care, die.

National Immunization Week

This year Canada will observe the 19th National Immunization Week from September 24 to 30.

This week was initiated by the Health League of Canada in co-operation with the Department of Health.

This annual event is designed to call the public attention to the fact that there are many communicable diseases which may be prevented by immunization.

The most outstanding of these diseases are smallpox, diphtheria, poliomyelitis, whooping cough, typhoid, etc. If there are no epidemics people are often somewhat indifferent to immunization and are inclined to believe that these diseases only affect the other fellow.

Due to immunization, better medical facilities and more efficient sanitation, infectious diseases are not as prevalent as in the past and do not take such a toll of human life. These diseases, although preventable, are still with us.

In Canada the statistics of the last few decades have demonstrated the benefit and value of immunization. For example, in 1926 there were 1536 cases of smallpox — none today. In 1939 there were 2679 cases of diphtheria and in 1959 only 37. Similar figures could be quoted for other infectious diseases.

Immunization against poliomyelitis is of utmost importance. No longer is this a disease of infants and children but affects adults of all age groups. The poliomyelitis records of recent years show that approximately 80 per cent of paralyzing and fatal cases have been among those who received insufficient or no Salk Vaccine at all. Although these facts are fairly well known, how many adults are fully immunized?

A man-made or natural disaster (like a hurricane) could easily destroy many of the protective sanitary facilities of modern civilization and the individual would have to rely on his state of immunity to guard him against many infectious diseases. A person's immunization record, like his blood group should always be available and should be carried by the individual at all times because this can be of invaluable help to the attending physician in case of an emergency.

The object of an immunization program is to obtain the most effective degree of active immunity in the greatest number of persons. Under normal conditions everyone should be immunized against smallpox, whooping cough, diphtheria, poliomyelitis, tetanus, and where indicated against typhoid, para-typhoid, typhus, cholera and yellow fever. At no time must we relax our efforts to fight disease which could be abolished.

National Immunization week provides us with the means whereby everyone is reminded again to bring up their level of immunity.

Canada's first fall fair in the east

Windsor, N. S., has the honor of holding the first agricultural fair in North America.

It was held in 1765. Canadian exhibitions inherited their character mainly from the Old World agricultural fairs, but Saint John, N. B., had a provincial industrial exhibition in 1851.

Ontario and Quebec encouraged fairs and exhibitions and made them a vital force in the life of each province. The Niagara Agricultural Society, founded about 1792, apparently held the first fair in Upper Canada.

With government aid other exhibitions came into being. By 1800 there were fairs at London, Ottawa, Guelph, Port Hope, Cobourg, Bradford, Hamilton and several other places.

The Toronto Exhibition was first held in 1846 and was incorporated in 1878 as the Canadian National Exhibition.

In Lower Canada, agricultural exhibitions were held under the auspices of agricultural societies as early as 1821, when one was held at Riviere Ouelle.

The trouble with the chronic borrower is that he always keeps everything but his word.

Four Hospitalized In Accident

Four persons were hospitalized, and four other persons escaped with minor injuries from a two-car collision on the number 3 highway about one mile east of Coleman around 6 p.m. Saturday evening, September 9.

Most seriously injured of the four was John Shozawa of Japan, who is attending Anglican Theological College in Vancouver.

Mr. Shozawa was removed to the Crows Nest Pass Municipal Hospital by ambulance from where he was removed Sunday morning to a Lethbridge hospital to be treated for a fracture of the left leg near the hip region. He also sustained cuts, bruises and shock.

Mr. Shozawa was riding in the car with his cousin the Rev. Timothy Nakayama, Anglican minister from Foremost, who sustained facial cuts and bruises, but was not hospitalized.

Also passengers in the Rev. Nakayama's car was his fiancée, Keiko Furumoto, who had just arrived from Japan on September 7th. She sustained cuts and bruises but was not admitted to hospital.

Rev. Nakayama and Miss Furumoto will be married in St. Augustine's Anglican Church in Lethbridge on September 18th.

Another passenger in the car was Rev. Nakayama's father, the Rev. Gordon Nakayama of Coaldale, who only received some abrasions and bruises in the mishap.

The other car, owned by Rudolf Schwarz of Coleman, carried three passengers besides Schwarz.

Passengers included Clifford McGinnis and Rene Buydens, all of Coleman, and a fourth passenger whose name was not available.

Schwarz, Buydens and McGinnis are all patients in the Crows Nest Pass Municipal Hospital suffering from cuts, bruises, abrasions and shock and possible fractures. Injuries to the men are not serious. The fourth passenger was not injured.

The Rev. Nakayama, driving a

1961 Pontiac, was proceeding in an easterly direction toward his home in Foremost and the Schwarz car, a 1951 Meteor, was proceeding west when the two cars appear to have sideswiped one another.

The Nakayama car came to rest on the north side of the highway, balanced on the shoulder of the road, while the Schwarz car about 75 yards west of the Nakayama car, came to rest on its roof on the south side of the highway about 40 feet off the road.

Both cars were extensively damaged. RCMP police of the Blairmore detachment are investigating the accident.

Amendments To Workmen's Comp. Act Announced

At the 1961 Session of the Alberta Legislature the Workmen's Compensation Act was amended with effect from April 12, 1961.

Some of the changes are set out hereunder:

1—The monthly pension to a widow was increased from $60.00 to $75.00.

2—The monthly pension to a child was increased from $30.00 to $40.00. The foregoing apply to existing pensions to widows and to children.

3—The allowance for burial expenses was increased from $200.00 to $250.00.

4—The pre-burial allowance to a widow was increased from $150.00 to $200.00.

5—An allowance for the cost of a burial plot not exceeding $50.00 was added.

6—The maximum annual earnings for compensation and assessment, purpose were increased from $4,000.00 to $5,000.00. As the Act came into force on April 12, the maximum earnings for assessment purposes for the year 1961 will be $4,700.00 being the pro-rata apportionment of the previous and new maximum.

It is recommended that in view of the increase in the maximum assessable earnings each employed review his estimate of wages for 1961 and if indicated submit an amended estimate so as to avoid a penalty for underestimating.

7—The minimum assessment was increased from $5.00 to $15.00.

8—Applications for personal coverage for employers and for coverage of members of the employer's family are now required to show earnings of not less than $2,500.00 and not more than $5,000.00 per annum. The previous amounts were $1,800.00 and $4,000.00 respectively.

If it is desired to increase any existing coverage to the new amount, a new application must be made and an assessment paid on the additional amount.

9—The attention of all purchasers of lumber is directed to the fact that deductions under Section 78 of the Act in respect of the purchase of lumber are now payable to the Board not later than the last day of the month following the month in which the lumber is purchased and if not so paid may be collected from the purchaser in the same manner as an assessment.

10—A new section brings under the Act in the event of injury the work done by a workman who is directed by his employer to perform for him in an industry not coming within the scope of the Act and the employer is assessed in respect of the same.

The section reads as follows: "84a. Where

(a) an employer engaged in an industry to which this Act applies directs an employee who is working in or is on the payroll of such industry to do work for the employer that is not in an industry to which this Act applies, and

(b) the employee is injured in the course of such work, the work so done by the employee shall be deemed to be an industry to which this Act applies and the employer shall pay an assessment on such industry for the balance of the current year not less than the assessment he would have paid had he made an application to the Board to have such work added to the Schedule as an industry coming under this Act."

There are probably many occasions where an employer directs a workman ordinarily employed in his industry under the Act to do work for him that does not come under the Act. Two common examples are where an employer sends one of his workmen to do work at the employer's home or to do temporary work on the employer's farm. In such cases if the workman is injured, he comes under the provisions of the Act and the employer will be assessed in the same manner as if he had made a voluntary application to cover the work done by that workman which at present time would be on a minimum payroll of $3,000. It is suggested that employers be aware of this provision and to work outside of their regular industry should get in touch with the Board to ascertain their position.

No Election

A gangling youth from the hills approached the window and announced that he wanted a marriage licence.

"Certainly," said the clerk, "where is the bride-elect?"

"What do ya mean, bride-elect?" drawled the hillman. "There warn't no election. This gal done appointed herself!"

Three-Bedroom 2-Storey Design Contains Good Storage Space

This design by architect Roy Sellers, of Winnipeg, Manitoba, takes advantage of rear garden and lawn areas. The combination living-dining room and the three bedrooms all overlook the garden while the working area of the house faces the street.

The architect has provided a plentiful supply of cupboard and storage space including a sewing room and linen storage off the open upstairs hall. The front door is well-protected from the weather. Best orientation of the house would be obtained with the garage on the northern side of the lot.

The total floor area is 1,236 square feet, excluding garage, and the exterior dimensions are 27 feet, seven inches by 22 feet, five inches. Working drawings for this house, known as Design 517, are available from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation at minimum cost.

Return From Summer Work In Smoky River

Gordon Marconi, Vince Janostak and Albert "Coomb" Halluck have returned to their homes here after having spent the summer months since early June, 90 miles south of Grande Prairie.

Mr. Marconi is now employed at the Vicary Creek mine; Mr. Halluck in Calgary, and Mr. Janostak has been employed at the Sulphur Plant.

The three local men were working with Dr. K. K. Landis, geologist and university professor, near the head waters of the Smoky River. The crew are, and have been, prospecting for the past few summers prospecting and digging for a high grade coking coal to supply this basic need for a possible steel industry in a California centre. Reports indicate that a good quantity of high grade coking coal has been located.

Coleman Man Is Injured

A Land Rover truck driven by Harold Parkinson of Coleman was struck by a Millar and Brown trailer truck on the number three highway at exactly midnight on Friday, September 22.

Both vehicles were proceeding east and the Land Rover was in the process of making a left turn when the trailer unit, driven by Bob Potter of Calgary, went to pass and a collision occurred.

The Land Rover was pushed along the highway some 60 feet, and came to rest facing west along the E. Tallis residence fence.

The Land Rover was extensively damaged, the fence was torn down and a Kananaskis highway marker sign was uprooted.

Parkinson is in hospital being treated for fractured ribs and bruises. Potter was uninjured. The Coleman town police are investigating.

Leah Jones Honored At Shower

A bridal shower honoring Miss Leah Jones of Coleman, August bride-elect, was held in the Catholic hall. About 200 guests attended and the hall was packed to capacity.

Leah and her mother, Mrs. Harold Jones and the groom's mother, Mrs. Peter Truch, were all presented with corsages before entering the hall.

The wedding march was played by Mrs. Amy Penny and Leah was escorted to her place of honor by Mrs. Emily Misura, after which bingo and whist were enjoyed.

The whist prizes were won by 1st, Mrs. Pauline Vincent of Pincher; 2nd, by Mrs. Mary Fauville of Coleman, while the consolation prize went to Mrs. Mirie McJannet of Bellevue. The door prize was won by Mrs. Beatrice Phillips. The tables were decorated with a wide variety of garden flowers that were donated by Mrs. S. DeMartin/Miss Pat Moore, assisted by Mrs. I. Spivak, was in charge of the guest book.

The bride's gifts were placed in a little red school house which was a work of art, done by Leah's two aunts, Mrs. Connie Michalsky and Mrs. Irene Caroe.

After a delightful lunch served by the hostesses, the guest of honor was presented with many beautiful and useful gifts by Mrs. Emily Misura, among which were a set of pots, a floor polisher, a vacuum cleaner, an electric coffee percolator, a steam iron, an ironing board and cover, an electric fry pan, a copper bread box and a matching canister set, an electric pop-up toaster, the latter being a gift from the hostesses.

Miss Jones, in her typical school teacher manner, very ably thanked her guests and gave a very touching talk with much feeling as she spoke about it being such a memorable occasion with so many present.

She expressed her wish to talk to everyone present before they left and said words were inadequate at a time like this to thank everyone, especially the hostesses.

Hostesses for the evening were Mesdames Ann Gibos, M. C. Lister, H. Caroe, M. Tiffin, I. Spivak, E. Nelson, K. Cornett, N. Percozak, A. Owen, T. Vigna, E. Latimer, M. Kilgannon, A. Murdoch, H. Local Boy Married At Invermere

(Cranbrook Courier)

INVERMERE, B. C. — A trio of sisters preceded a pretty bride down the aisle in Christ Church, Invermere, August 26th, when a double ring ceremony united Minnie Mineko, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elji Kamikawaji of Athlmer, and George Brian Park, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Park of Coleman.

Matron of honor, Mrs. Donald Lawrence of Vancouver, bride's matron, Mrs. Edward Steele of Cardston, and bride's maid, Miss Nancy Kamikawaji of Athlmer, were gowned in identical dresses of lilac floral peau de soie under mauve organza.

Their accessories were white, and they each wore tiny gold crosses. Their flowers were fan-shaped bouquets formed of miniature white chrysanthemums and yellow sweetheart roses.

The bride's gown was a floor-length model of white nylon chiffon with sequins on the sweetheart neckline matching the sequins on the lace panels of the graceful full skirt.

Her bouquet was red roses and she wore a single drop pearl necklace.

Her veil was chapel length, held by a coronet of seed pearls topped with rhinestone drops on each point.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Rev. Hulse of Fernie officiated at the ceremony. The best man was John Nowasad of Athlmer, and ushers were brothers-in-law of the bride, Donald Lawrence of Vancouver, and Edward Steele of Cardston.

A diminutive flower girl in floor length pink nylon was a cousin of the bride, Diane Kamikawaji of Calgary, and the little ring-bearer was a brother of the groom, Billy Park of Coleman.

Mrs. George Duthie was organist, and during the signing of the register Mrs. Ian Weir sang "I'll Walk Beside You".

At the reception which followed in the Lake Windermere Memorial Community Centre, the parents of the bride and groom assisted the young couple in receiving guests.

Mrs. Kamikawaji was wearing a becoming turquoise floral print frock of peau de soie satin with white accessories and a carnation corsage, and the groom's mother was in a beige ensemble with green accessories and a white carnation corsage.

A three-tiered cake topped by a miniature bride and groom centered the bridal table with large baskets of gladioli flanking the table.

Autumn flowers decorated the guest tables scattered throughout the hall, which was decorated with pink and white streamers and pink wedding bells.

A dance followed with the Runderlairs from Banff supplying the music and after the dance Mr. and Mrs. Kamikawaji were at home at their residence.

For the honeymoon in Alberta and U. S. points, the bride changed to a green suit with which she wore white accessories and a corsage of yellow sweetheart roses. The young couple will reside at Dry Gulch.

"Sportsmen Of The Year" Club

There appears to be a sporting flexibility in the membership requirements of the "Bridge Sportsmen of the Year Club."

A Sandford of Beaver Mines, Alberta, has been placed in a category by himself, having achieved distinction by bringing down a 600 pound silvertip grizzly bear.

The now well-known Sportsmen of the Year Club, sponsored by Sicks' Lethbridge Brewery Ltd., has this year added 104 new members to the roster of sportsmen and sportswomen. Most of these have distinguished themselves in the regular classifications of bowling, fishing, curling, darts, golf and cribbage.

Eligible for membership are those who make a 400 or better score at bowling, a record catch in fishing three triple 20's in one round of dart tournament or league play, an 8-end in curling, a hole-in-one in golf or a perfect cribbage hand. (Or, as in Mr. Sandford's case, bagging a third of a ton of grizzly!)

Procedure for membership in the club and to receive the "Bridge award" is simple. The Brewery invites sportsmen to submit a statement, certified by club president or opponent, testifying that on a specific date and at a specific place the required score was made.

In addition to proof of membership, the sportsman receives a decorated scroll to add to his trophies.

Those things that come to the man who waits seldom turn out to be the thing he's waiting for.
